Sightseeing Destinations

A Yamanaka-za

Yamanaka-za features a stately atmosphere, with its lacquered pillars and lattice-style walls, and the maki-e inlay work on the ceiling. On Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, geisha performances are held here — just one of the forms of traditional culture that visitors can enjoy. Admission: Adults ¥700, children ¥350

B Great Sugi of Kayano

This 2,300-year-old sugi cedar tree is located at Sugahara Shrine, and known in Japan as the emperor's great sugi cedar tree. The teahouse in front of the shrine offers delicious kusa-dango dumplings, and is a must-visit while you're here.

C Ioji Temple

Established 1,300 years ago by the Buddhist priest Gyoki, this temple protects the town's hot spring. Offers a magnificent view of the hot spring town.

D Yamanaka-za & Kiku-no-Yu Bath (women's bath)

This elegant and feminine building is located near the source spring for Yamanaka Onsen. At the Kasa-no-Tsuyu foot bath in front of Kiku-no-Yu, visitors can even drink the spring water. Yamanaka-za next door is a concert hall where Yamanaka geisha shows are performed, and is worth a visit simply to see the beautiful maki-e inlay work and Yamanaka lacquerware in the recessed panels of the ceiling in the lobby. Coin-operated lockers available for bath visitors.

E Soyu Kiku-no-Yu Bath (men's bath)

This bath has not once changed its location in the 1,300 years or so since this town's hot spring was first discovered by the Buddhist priest Gyoki. Until the early to mid 20th century, the town's ryokan inns didn't have their own baths — instead, overnight guests would come out to use this bath. This bath was also praised by the famous haiku poet Basho as one of Japan's three finest.

Kiku-no-yu admission (for men's or women's bath): Adults ¥440, children 6-11 ¥130, children 3-5 ¥50, children under 3 free

F Korogi-bashi Bridge

Famed for its breathtaking views all year round, and beloved by famous Japanese poets like Basho and Yumeji.

G Ayatori-hashi Bridge

This uniquely S-shaped bridge was designed by Hiroshi Teshigahara. Its redish purple color offers a stunning contrast with the surrounding natural scenery through all four seasons.

H Kurotani-bashi Bridge

A stone bridge that conjures up romantic images of the early 20th century, and was once crossed by many travelers along the Nata Road on their way into Yamanaka.

I Yamanaka Lacquerware Museum Yamanaka Urushi-za

Learn all about Yamanaka Lacquerware through exhibits of outstanding pieces and items available for sale. (Open daily)

J Katsura Shozu Spring

Long ago, visitors who came for the baths' medicinal properties would be reluctant to part with the ladies who assisted them here.

K Basho-do Hut

Dedicated to the haiku poet Basho, who famously praised this hot spring.

L Hakusan Shrine

The subordinate shrine for the Hakusangu shrines scattered around the area. Features beautiful cherry blossoms in spring.

M Kakusenkei Gorge Riverside Area

This popular destination is open through the end of October. Enjoy the lush greenery of the gorge and the peaceful sound of the water, as you relax with some delicious sweets in this beautiful environment.

N Tengu Rock

They say that if you see the three rocks at the top of the mountain from far away, it's a sign of good things to come.

O Great Three-forked Sugi

This 2,300-year-old sugi cedar tree at Sugatani Hachiman Shrine is 54 meters tall and eight meters around its base. The tree is said to possess a feminine beauty, and the mossy path to it has a quiet beauty all its own.

P Tsubaki Shozu Spring at Tokushoji Temple

Tsubaki Shozu spring, the yatsubusa ume plum tree, and okoshi-kake rock are remnants from the Buddhist priest Rennyo that can still be found here today. It's a bit out of the way, but worth the trip.
